

What's Going on in Reference?

Have you seen the colorful slips of paper sticking out of books in the Reference area (1st floor)? If you haven't heard, the library will be doing some renovations this summer, which will include a new and improved reference and collaboration area. The librarians are marking books that will stay in Reference, and those that will join the circulating collection on B1 and B2.

Losing Your Charge(r)

We find lots and lots of laptop chargers in the library, and many of them look exactly alike. Our suggestion? Label your charger! If your name is on it, it will be much easier to recognize when you inevitably forget it and have to come pick it up. We might even notify you to let you know it's here!

Library Tip: Interlibrary Loan

Need a resource that is not in our stacks? Whether it's a book or an article, electronic or "old-school" chances are interlibrary loan can get you what you need. For more information please see <http://library.richmond.edu/services/interlibrary-loan/index.html> or stop by and see us!

Stressed Out?

Did you know that chair massages are offered in Boatwright Library every Monday from 6-9 p.m.? Take a study break and relax that back! 2nd floor at the top of the stairs.
